SENTENCED TO 15 YEARS
IN FEDERAL PRISON AT

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Charles D. Waggoner, Telluride, Colo., bank president, was sentenced to 15 years imprisonment today on his plea of guilty to mail fraud in connection with a scheme to obtain $500,000 from six New York banks by means of forged authorization papers.

Witnesses had been assembled from as far away as the west coast for Waggoner's trial, but when the case was called today defense counsel entered a plea of guilty. United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle, then moved for immediate imposition of sentence and the banker was sentenced to 15 years term in Atlanta penitentiary.

Witnesses From Afar

VERBAL CLASHES MARKED
THURSDAY HEARING ON RATE
DIFFERENTIAL TO SOUTHWEST

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Verbal clashes between attorneys representing railroad carriers and shippers enlivened the differential freight rate hearing today.

W. A. Disque, rate examiner for the interstate commerce commission, and Clarence E. Gilmore, chairman of the Texas railroad commission, announced attorneys several times to cease objections and to present the testimony more rapidly.

The first time came when shippers called W. A. Weeks, auditor for the Texas railroad commission as a witness. Attorneys Robert A. Thompson for the Texas Pacific objected to Weeks as a witness for the shippers and was remanded by Examiner Disque, who held employees of the commission were the best witnesses for both carriers and shippers as they were thoroughly qualified to interpret the records as filed by both contestants.

A. L. Reed, attorney for the Texas Industrial Traffic league, charged the Texas and Pacific had refused to give him certain records of freight shipments and he used the only means of getting it by summoning Weeks as a witness. Weeks testified he went to Dallas Monday of this week and obtained the desired statistics from the general offices of the Texas and Pacific. The figures submitted covered freight tonnage and income of the railroad company delivered to and hauled out of different territories.

W. A. Guerringer, chief engineer for the Texas railroad commission, was a witness and was still on the stand when the hearing recessed at noon.

C. D. Bordelon of Houston, traffic manager for the Missouri Pacific lines in Texas, was a witness

TEXAS PRESBYTERY
CLOSED SESSION OF
TWO DAYS CORSICANA

Big Increase In Bank Deposits

Increase in total deposits in the four Corsicana banks for two months period of nearly three quarter million dollars reflects the unusual prosperity this city and county is now enjoying.

At the close of business October 4, 1928, the total deposits in the local financial institutions amounted to $8,290,180.76, according to official bank statements issued Tuesday. At the corresponding period of 1928 the total deposits of the Corsicana banks amounted to $8,562,360.62. This shows a gain of $27,300.14 in deposits.

Agricultural and business interests in the city and county are in exceptionally good financial condition and the most conservative agree that prosperity abounds in this section.

The two-day session of the Texas Presbytery closed Wednesday night at the United Presbyterian church, with the adoption of Lord's day observance resolutions, and three talks, the general theme of which was "Soul Winning."

Minutes of the morning and afternoon sessions were read and approved.

"We Save Souls" was the subject of a 20 minute talk by Miss Sally E. Dickey, member of the Women's Board of Missions, in which she explained that it is to your advantage to save souls. The speaker explained that it is good development for you to work toward the saving of lost souls, as well as giving you joy.

Miss Dickey asked why does God ask us to save souls, since he has the power to do it himself at his will? She answered the question by stating that God wishes to develop us, and gives us practice in this method of personal contact, without which we will degenerate into heathens.

For the good of the person who is saved was another reason for our saving souls, the speaker declared. That person is lost eternally until he finds Christ, and then he is made happy. There are many persons who are waiting to be asked to accept Christ as their personal savior, and very likely, if they are asked, they will accept him in the sight of God. Many of these persons are natural born leaders, and when converted will be a great influence in saving other souls to God. "Therefore," the speaker said, "we must win leaders to God."

Personal Responsibility.

Another reason for saving souls Miss Dickey explained, is that we will be responsible for them if we do not do our duty toward them. The speaker stated that the King will come only when there are enough saved souls to kill the Kingdom, and it is our duty to fill the Kingdom as soon as possible.

Carcass-Coddling Threatens Moral Fibre of the Generation

Cult of Health and of Body-Worship One of Day's Real Weaknesses—What the Bible Says on the Subject.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Our grandmothers were concerned about their souls; their granddaughters are concerned about their bodies. "How to Reduce" is today's real "woman question;" and one fraught with peril to the next generation, say the physicians. In the present year, there is a "heavy parlour" which certainly, to judge by the evidence, are not returning value for the money received—should be halved with the Christian mission boards, the enterprise of world evangelization would be straightway quadrupled.

Men are not much behind women in this concern for the physical. The largest single department of every newspaper in the land is that devoted to sports. In order to learn the news of our colleges nowadays one must turn to the sporting pages. "Keeping physically fit" has become the major interest of millions of men. "Fit for what?" I asked myself when a wealthy acquaintance said to me at luncheon in a golf club one day, "I just must have my daily golf in order to 'keep fit.' Before he inherited money that man was a useful public servant; now he gives his days to the golf course, in order to 'keep fit' to play more golf! So far as the big world is concerned, he is "fit" for nothing."

One "Fit" Athlete

In a swimming pool, last week, I saw a magnificent specimen of physical young manhood, tanned from a whole season's exposure to the sun. "Who is he, and what does he do to justify his existence?" I asked my young companion. The latter grinned: "He is Blank, a well-known college athlete. He was offered an athletic scholarship at S&S college, which certainly makes it easy for football candidates to enter; but this fellow could not pass a single entrance requirement, and was turned down. But he was admitted to P—, and with a much larger allowance for expenses; and P— things it has a real bargain, for he has frequently got the college into the headlines of the sporting pages." In vacation time this athlete ministers to popular taste by giving youth abundant opportunity to admire him.

Such as he are the heroes and examples of the younger generation. Frequent questionnaires among college students have shown that the letter on the sweater of one highly prized goat than a Phi Beta Kappa key on the watch fob. The magnificent young animal of the swimming pool personifies the day's standards.

For the body-cult runs far and wide and deep. Food fads and health theories have taken hold of myriads. Every newspaper must have its counselling column on health. Magazines exclusively devoted to the subject of physical culture are prosperous—and pornographic. I can imagine one of these persons who keeps his mind upon his stomach, and, I submit, is a serious anatomical misplacement with grave pathological consequences—inquiring of another food faddist: "What was that 'Diet of Worms' that made Martin Luther so strong? I've tried a diet of bran, a diet of nuts, a diet of raw vegetables, a diet of liquids, and now I am wondering how a diet of worms could be prepared so that it would help me." Everybody knows the twin conversational pests who talk either about their bodies or about their latest "health food."

Our Heathen Body-Worship We have gone farther than ever the ancient Greeks in our cult of the body. The latest philosophy to command wide allegiance is "Behaviorism," which reduces both mind and soul to a mere series of physical reactions, our modern literature is soaked with bodyism, of fleshliness. Physical sensations are set forth as paramount. The end of all being, according to the day's popular fashion, is to get a "kick" out of life. The Ten Commandments, and the accumulated wisdom of the human race, are safely brushed aside if they stand in the way of our present pursuit of carnal titillation. In addition to coddling the carcass, to the neglect of the intellect and of the spirit, the fashion is to make the sensations of the body the major end of life.

Let it be said in plain words that this body worship is stark paganism, and wholly contrary to

Man Confesses To Strangling Young Woman

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Dexter Churchill Dayton, 24, insurance salesman, was under arrest today on a charge of murder after the finding of the body of Miss Marjorie Lucy O'Donnell, 23, National Geographic society employee, strangled to death in a room on the eighth floor of a Washington hotel.

Dayton, police said, confessed to strangling Miss O'Donnell after a quarrel at a party.

Miss O'Donnell was said to be the daughter of a Pittsburgh newspaperman. Dayton's home is in Kansas City.

OIL CITY, Pa., Oct. 9.—(AP)—Miss Marjorie Lucy O'Donnell, strangled to death in a Washington hotel, was a daughter of John O'Donnell, editor and manager of the Oil City Derrick. She formerly was club editor of the Pittsburgh Sun. She went to the national capital some time ago.

Against this tendency to reduce immortal beings to hebrute life, we place the clear teaching of the scripture, which is that the body is merely an instrument, a tool, a means to an end. Paul said: "I keep my body under," which passage is more literally translated, in one of the recent versions, "I maul and master my body." Beginning with the ascetic and suffering prophets of the Old Testament, from Elijah to Jeremiah, all the way through to the Saviour, whose body was broken on the cross, the Biblical record is of great souls who maintained their physical lives dear unto themselves.

What the Bible Really Teaches

History has forgotten the hordes of Roman gladiators, physically as fine as the numbskull college athletes of the swimming pool, but it remembers the ascetic monk Temachus, whose heroic spirit stopped the whole brutal practice. Thinking persons cherish the memory of Steinmetz, the "wizard" of electricity, who made a permanent contribution to human welfare, despite his twisted body; and they lay literary laurels upon the grave of Robert Louis Stevenson, who wrote masterpieces on a sickbed.

SEVEN SENTENCE SERMONS

Reading maketh a full man, conference a ready man, and writing an exact man. Bacon.

Take each man's censure, but reserve thy judgment—Shakespeare.

The past's a book wherein some truths are found, But not a chain by which men's feet are bound. —Anon.

Too low they build who build beneath the stars. Young.

Thou art a God ready to pardon, gracious and merciful, to anger and of great kindness. —Nehemiah 9:17.

One reason, and one only, does the Scripture set forth for physical fitness, as in the case of Daniel: that the body may be an effective agent of the soul. The New Testament argues that our bodies are not to be defied, because they are the temples of the Holy Spirit. A Christian writer summed the teachings up in a sentence: "We have bodies, but we are souls."

Only once does the Bible specifically touch upon the subject of physical fitness, and that is in the familiar words of Paul: "Exercise profieth little."

The Revised Version suggests the alternative, "Body exercise profiteth a little."

The Weymouth Translation renders the meaning as "Exercise for the body is not useless, but godliness is useful in every respect." Clearer seems the way Dr. Moffatt interprets the Greek original: "The training of the body is of small service, but religion is of service in all directions."

In another passage, Paul bids Christians "mortify the deeds of the flesh."

Each art of humble service is that divine touching of the ground which enables one to get the spring whereby he leaps to greater heights. —R. W. Trine.

FOUR HURLERS TRY IN VAIN TO HALT SLUGGING VISITORS

FOXX GETS SECOND HOMER,
SOON JOINED BY AL SIM-
MONS WITH ANOTHER

BY BRIAN BELL
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

CHICAGO, Oct. 10. (AP)—With most of the pre-season dope scrambled beyond repair, the Cubs and Athletics today moved from Chicago to Philadelphia to resume play tomorrow.

Enthusiasm of the American league now bounds for they had done all they could at Chicago, winning the only two games played. The Cubs on the other hand were a grim but determined ball club.

Optimism, however, was rampant among the National league representatives even after the second straight defeat in a contest in which the Chicagoans never were in the game. A crowd of 49,887 had new chances to cheer.

Groundkeepers Confident

Even the groundkeepers have tangible proof of their faith in the club, after the bad dashed spring from Wrigley Field and the rebuff of the Cubs in their

Workers took their places on the diamond and with meticulous care placed the playing surface for a baseball game that would not be played this season unless their beloved Cubs can execute a strong comeback.

The Cubs were forced to use four pitchers in the second game and every baseball indicator pointed to the renomination of Charlie Root as the Cubs' bunting to open the day in Philadelphia. Root, who stopped eight-ninths of the Athletics in the first game, but threw a home run ball to Jimmy Foxx, will have three days rest when game time arrives tomorrow.

Jack Quinn Due

Old Jack Quinn, veteran of veterans, probably will get the call from Connie Mack, although the tall tactician can summon any one of half a dozen pitchers to the mound. The resilient John Pierpont was warmed up yesterday in spite of some of the coldest baseball weather on record. He can throw almost as slow as that of Ehmke, and has a "spitter" too.

Among bitter reflections the Cubs took with them on their ride from west to east, was a strike out record of some kind. Ehmke forced 13 Cubs to miss third strikes Tuesday, and Wednesday, 13 more started, although this bit of destrutive pitching was divided among Ehmke, Foxx and George Earnshaw struck out seven in four and two-thirds innings and Grove bagged six victims in one-third of an inning less.

The chore of naming a world's series hero is not yet in order, but when the final reckoning is made, Jimmy Foxx probably will be considered. The Maryland boy, for the second time in two days sent the A's out in front with a home run, the second being more productive than the first, in that two of his mates rode home with him. Al Simmons ran the total of Philadelphia home runs for the series to three with a circuit smash good for two runs.

Malone Starts Well

Pierce (Pat) Malone, strikeout king of the National league, started as though he might break the strike record established less than a month before. He sent three visitors to the bench in the first inning, caught another naming in the second and added a fifth in the third. He left the scene in the fourth when the Mack's had run their string of runs to six.

Sheriff Blake, Hal Carlson and Art Nehf followed in order, but it made no difference by this time who was pitching, although George Ehmke was forced to seek cover

STATE HOME LADS READY FOR COMBAT WITH MALAKOFF TEAM

By FRANK ELLSWORTH
The State Home Lads invade the Malakoff territory Friday afternoon for their first conference game of the season. The Lads are looking forward to this game with great interest. They have not been on the field of action since they played the Cleburne Yellowjackets and are determined to also give one back in return and they think they can bring back the baton.

Coach "Raz" Butler is putting the Lads through some hard work out for the first few days of the week in preparation for the contest Friday. He is polishing up on the plays, in order to have them perfected for the contest, and also to have the Lads in first class condition for the game. The Lads and coach are confident of victory in this game, but they know that it is not to be dashed out to them in gold spoons, and therefore know that they are going to have to work for the victory.

The Lads now have their schedule for the rest of the season filled. All of the games except two are to be played on foreign soil. There was quite a skip from the Cleburne to the Malakoff game, but the Lads now have a game for every week except Thanksgiving, which is still open.

The Lads' schedule for the rest of the season is as follows:

Oct. 11—Malakoff at State Home.
Oct. 25—Eunis at Ennis.
Nov. 1—Teague at Teague.
Nov. 8—Frost at State Home.
Nov. 15—Mexico at Mexia.
Nov. 29—Open.

The dope bucket has been upset so many times in football that it is hard to hold it to all of the time. The Malakoff eleven might spring something new on the Lads and they will be prepared and ready for the surprise. Malakoff lost a game to the Odd Fellows team, but that is no sign in the least why they are going to fall an easy victim to the Lads, but the Lads expect a fight from the Malakoff delegation and are determined to also give one back in return and they think they can bring back the baton.

The Lads should be in tip-top condition for the fray, and fighting them in their usual way, and if that be true they should win this game Friday.

ODD FELLOWS HOME LYNXES PREPARING FOR KERENS GAME

SEVERAL REGULARS WILL BE OUT OF GAME FOR TIME BUT SQUAD STILL STRONG

Fast scrummage, interspersed with a lecture on keeping in condition and getting the best out of the day, was the order of the day for the Odd Fellows Lynxes Tuesday afternoon in preparing for the game with Kerens next Friday afternoon.

The Lynxes now have their schedule for the rest of the season filled. All of the games except two are to be played on foreign soil. There was quite a skip from the Cleburne to the Malakoff game, but the Lads now have a game for every week except Thanksgiving, which is still open.

The Lads' schedule for the rest of the season is as follows:

Oct. 11—Malakoff at State Home.
Oct. 25—Eunis at Ennis.
Nov. 1—Teague at Teague.
Nov. 8—Frost at State Home.
Nov. 15—Mexico at Mexia.
Nov. 29—Open.

The Lynxes are prepared for any surprise the Eagles might spring and will be watching carefully for any tricks pulled. The Eagles always fight harder against the Tigers than any team in the district and might hold the Tigers to a close score. Personally, we think the Tigers will win at least four touchdowns.

In times past, the Hillsboro team used to defeat the Tigers with monotonous regularity. But in the few years since the Tigers have turned the tables and have downed the boys from Hill county under large scores.

The I. O. O. F. team met the Kerens Bobcats in Kerens Thursday afternoon in a feature attraction at the Tri-County Fair. The game should be hard fought with the Odd Fellows having a slight edge over the Bobcats, judging by comparative scores against the Malakoff eleven. The Lynxes defeated the Malakoff aggregation 40-6 in the opening game of the season for the Odd Fellows, while the Kerens team eked out a 7-6 victory over the Lions in a hard fought tilt in Kerens last Thursday afternoon.

The Kerens team will fight their traditional enemies hard in the game and should hold them to a close score. However in our opinion, it would be a decided upset if the Kerens team should win over the Odd Fellows.

Lad Breaks Arm While Playing

Fred Bookout, 14 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Bookout, was painfully injured Wednesday afternoon when he broke his arm just below the shoulder while playing football with a number of boys. He was reported to be resting easily Thursday afternoon.

The Malakoff Lions in their appearance against the Odd Fellows team showed that with a little more coaching the team would develop into a formidable opponent for any in the league, with Jack Hillsboro furnished opposition for the Corsicana Tigers Friday afternoon on Tiger field. This will be the first conference game for either team and should give the Tigers a flying start in the district race. The Eagles have not been very successful in their first three games, winning from West and then tying Hubbard in the third encounter.

The Tigers are heavy favorites to top this game, and many of the fans are of the opinion that the Corsicanans will run up a large score.

TIGERS HAVE NOT SHOWN PUNCH THIS WEEK DURING WORK

The Corsicana Tigers and Hillsboro Eagles will clash at Tiger field Friday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock in the opening district 4, University of Texas Interscholastic league, game for both clubs. The Tigers have not been very successful in their first three games, winning from West and then tying Hubbard in the third encounter.

The Corsicana Junior high school opens its season Thursday afternoon against the West Side Junior high school of Waco on the Cotton Palace gridiron. In a practice game against the second team of the Odd Fellows two weeks ago, the Junior Lions fought hard but could not overcome the superior passing and running attack of the I. O. O. F. gridsters. But when playing among teams of their own size and weight, the Junior Tigers should give somebody a very interesting afternoon.

The Tiger coaches are going along easily with their charges and will in all probability have them in line for the backfield Friday afternoon. Clarke, Hightower, Duncan and others have "charley-horses" which keeps them from stepping so lively.

COTTON CROP OF 1929 PLACED AT 14,915,000 BALES

INCREASE OVER LAST YEAR AND OVER ESTIMATE MADE MONTH AGO PRESENT CROP

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. (AP)—An increase of 90,000 bales was shown today in the Department of Agriculture's October cotton production forecast as compared with a month ago. The indicated crop was placed at 14,915,000 bales by the crop reporting board as compared with 14,826,000 bales last month and 14,478,000 bales ginned last year.

Decreases in the indicated crop in the Carolinas, Texas and Oklahoma were more than offset by increases in the central portion of the belt from Georgia to Louisiana and Missouri, the board said. In Mississippi and the delta portions of Arkansas and Louisiana, the board reported, the crop is turning out much better than was expected a month ago.

Condition of the crop was reported at 55.1 per cent of normal, as compared with 54.1 per cent a month ago and a 10 years average of 55.0 per cent. The indicated yield is 1832 pounds per acre which is 2.5 pounds below the average yield for the 10 year period 1918-1927.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. (AP)—A cotton crop of 14,915,000 bales this year was forecast today by the department of agriculture.

The department said this was indicated by the condition of the crop on October 1 which was 55.0 per cent of normal. A month ago the forecast of 14,826,000 bales indicated the condition of the crop September 1 which was 55.4 per cent or a normal. Last year's crop totalled 14,478,000 bales and the condition on October 1 was 54.4 per cent of a normal.

The condition on October 1 and the indicated production by states follows:

State	Con. Ind. Pro.
Virginia	70 46,000

New Orleans Market Drops

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 8. (AP)—The government crop report giving the indicated yield as 14,915,000 bales, moderate increase over a month ago, was somewhat larger than traders expected.

When trading was resumed after the usual recess prices opened 30 points down on October 25 points down on December 29 and 31 points down on later months.

This was considered only a moderate decline, but the market had well liquidated in advance of the bureau report, trading was very active following resumption of business.

Ginnings For 1929 Show An Increase

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. (AP)—The census bureau announced today 5,905,650 running bales of cotton of the growth of 1929, including 169,607 round bales, counted as half bales, had been ginned prior to October 1.

PHILLIP'S CHAPEL

PHILLIP'S CHAPEL, Oct. 8. (SP)—School opened at Phillip's Chapel last Monday with an enrollment of fifty-five. The teachers are Misses Simpson, Watson and Wilson.

There was a large crowd at church Sunday night with Rev. Ledell presiding.

The cream supper which took place at the Phillip's Chapel school house Friday night was a success.

One of the best liked girls of our community, Miss Aline Wooten, was married to E. D. Roach Sunday afternoon, which took place at the home of the pastor of the First Baptist church of Corsicana. ### PRES. HOOVER AND PREMIER MACDONALD CLOSE FRANK TALKS ON PEACE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. (AP)—President Hoover said today the conversations with Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald were being carried on in an atmosphere of absolute frankness and that "neither of us has anything to re-serve."

The chief executive said since the first controversial session between the United States and Great Britain to be settled at this time it was possible to carry on the talks with a prospective of the future in a broad sense. The two, he added, were searching for those things that would promote a good feeling between the American and British peoples.

Mr. Hoover asserted that more important than the conversations themselves was the reaction of the American people and the great friendliness they had shown to the prime minister and through him to the British people. This evidence, the president said, also was more important than the conclusion he and Mr. MacDonald might reach.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. (AP)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and his daughter Isobel took leave today of the President and Mrs. Hoover whose guests they have been since Saturday.

The prime minister and his daughter went from the white house to the British embassy, which will be their home until they leave for Philadelphia and New York Thursday en route to Canada.

The president and the prime minister parted soon after breakfast. Mr. Hoover went to his office for an early conference with Secretary Stimson regarding the reply to the British invitation to attend the naval limitation conference at London in January.

After reaching the embassy, Mr. MacDonald conferred with British officials who accompanied him to the United States and attended to an accumulation of official business. Miss MacDonald drove to the library of congress for an inspection of that building.

Chairman Norris of the senate judiciary committee, although a dry, does not "look with favor" on the proposal, fearing it would block prosecutions in great many cases in which district attorneys "depend on the buyer of liquor to convict the seller."

Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, another dry member of the committee, which probably will be called upon to consider the bill, is "inclined to favor it" but hasn't given it "much thought."

State Home Band Is Entered in Contest At Texas State Fair

The State Orphans Home band has been entered in the $10,000 band contest to be held in Dallas during the State Fair of Texas Tuesday morning. The band will compete in the second year regular class.

New uniforms will be provided for the band for the contest. The new ragtime will consist of a double breasted blue serge coat, blue serge overseas cap, and light trousers.

Competition is scheduled for October 21.

the American and British peoples. History has yet to record the results of their experiment in international intercourse—that of personal contacts between the heads of governments—but each radiates a confidence that a long forward step has been taken in Anglo-American accord.

With the vexing question of general naval parity, or equality, behind them, the American president and the British prime minister were free to round out their conversations with discussions of other subjects which bear directly upon relations of the two great English speaking peoples and the general peace of the world.

Interest intense.

Perhaps few conversations in history have aroused more universal interest and curiosity than those which have taken place in the last three days in the nearby mountains and in the president's white house study.

But just what passed between the men probably never will be known in detail.

Thus far, two brief sentences constitute the official public record of the momentous meeting of the president and the prime minister.

THREE YOUTHFUL BURGLARS HELD AS MURDER SUSPECTS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 8. (AP)—Three youthful burglars who confessed to 14 apartment house robberies here were questioned by police yesterday in connection with the death of Preston R. Austin, wealthy Victoria, Tex., cattleman in Hot Springs, Ark., Sept. 26.

The trial admitted to police they had been in Little Rock, but maintained they merely stopped there enroute from Oklahoma City to Tennessee. Police Inspector Will Griffith said he was not satisfied with the alibis of the youths.

New Gold Rush Started by Find In Idaho Region

WALLACE, Idaho, Oct. 8. (AP)—A gold rush that had all the color and glamor of early day stampedes into the wealthy Coeur D'Alene region was in progress to new "diggings" in this region today.

The announcement of an old soudough, John Stout, one of the first to "get his" 35 years ago, that he had discovered outcroppings which assayed more than $2500 per ton in gold, in silver and $3 in copper, started the stampede to the North Fork river country, over which thousands of men trekked in the earlier rush. The "bonanza" was believed to be about 25 miles north of Priest.

URGES TARVER TO BE CANDIDATE.

John M. Sharpe, editor of the Williamson County Sun, is a student of Texas politics. He keeps in close touch with the state political situation and his observations carry considerable weight. An editorial recently appearing in the Williamson County Sun discussed Texas politics to considerable extent. The entire situation as it now stands was presented and in conclusion Editor Sharpe expressed himself as follows:

"With this condition existing the Democracy of Texas will need the services of a strong man as a candidate for governor; a man capable of carrying to the people of this State a message that will burn its way into the hearts and consciences of the voters. It will need a man whose record is unsullied, a statesman, a man who understands the problems and needs of the State, a man who has stood on the firing line for the best there is in civic affairs, a man who, by his previous record can gain and hold the respect and esteem of the great prohibition vote in this state. Such a man is Hon. William A. Tarver, of Corsicana. He has been in the front of the battle in this State since reaching his majority for a moral uplift, he has carried the message of prohibition and respect for law into the highways and by-ways of this State for years; he is of statesman-like proportions, he is a parliamentarian, he is an orator, he is honest, fearless, convincing, and can win over the opposition regardless from whence such opposition may come. He is capable; he measures up to the calibre of a governor and is the man Texas sorely needs in the executive offices at Austin during the immediate future. W. A. Tarver of Corsicana, is a man the best of Texas voters may support and feel that they have done themselves an honor when they do it."

Mr. Tarver is an able man, stanch Democrat and life-long prohibitionist. He has many friends throughout the state. He is a real campaigner and should Mr. Tarver decide to enter the gubernatorial race a real battle will be the result with the party lines tightly drawn.

CHRISTMAS SEALS.

Over 500 miles of Tuberculosis Christmas Seals are being distributed throughout Texas by the Texas Public Health Association in preparation for their annual seal sale which starts Thanksgiving Day. Approximately 100 chairmen are being appointed.

Each seal is seven-eights of an inch wide and one inch long and 32,000,000 have been allotted to Texas. If placed end to end they would reach from Houston, through Austin, Corsicana and Dallas. The seal this year has a background of blue on which is shown a bellringer tugging at a bell, the double-barred cross in red and the words, Health Greetings 1929, complete the design.

For the past 15 years the Texas Public Health Association, a volunteer health organization, through its affiliated local agencies, has sold Tuberculosis Christmas Seals and with the funds thus obtained, has carried on a state-wide campaign against tuberculosis and other preventable diseases.

The work consists of teaching health habits to school children, physical examination, lectures to all ages and races, literature, exhibits, clinics and tuberculosis surveys. Ninety-five per cent of the total amount of money raised has been used in Texas, and has been a great help to the official agencies engaged in promoting public health.

TWO FOR FIVE POSTAGE.

There comes from Washington another warning that something may happen to the postal rates. This time it is the first class mail that is in danger of increase, on the official assumption that such correspondence can best carry the burden. Postal deficits have mounted so steadily and considerably that a business administration can scarcely ignore them, and Postmaster General Brown is seeking reason and remedies. Just now he leans noticeably toward a two-and-a-half-cent rate for letter mail, together with sensible economies in the department, to bring the post office back to an approximate business basis.

It is suggested that there is small difference between two and two and a half cents to the average consumer, even though the fraction means millions to the government. It might even be urged that two stamps for a nickel would be an actual convenience in calculation and making change. But there will undoubtedly be widespread protest over any such increase. The nation found the three cent war rate burdensome, and England still does so. But somewhere between the popular protest against increases in any postal rate is the general conviction that they are intended to pay for inefficiency and abuse of privilege at Washington.

While the franking right is still allowed to verbose congressmen who glut the mails with tons of matter which few of their constituents trouble to read, the average citizens will show small enthusiasm for new denominations in postal stamps on his personal and business correspondence.

MACDONALD'S POLITICS.

Ramsay MacDonald, who is going to talk arms limitation and world peace on American soil for the next several weeks, represents the British labor party, which is enough to convince many Americans that he is a radical. The term is not applicable to either the prime minister or his party.

The larger its vote has grown, the more conservative has the labor party become. It has its left wing, whose members talk expansively and explosively; but it is careful to see that these people have little to do with the formation of policies.

The party has ruled carefully and wisely.

There are parallels in American history. When Jefferson became president, the federalists predicted national ruin because he was deemed a radical. But Jefferson's administration differed little from that of the conservative John Adams.

Again when Jackson entered the white house the East trembled at the advent of this rough frontiersman; and again it was shown that a scientist has discovered that disease bacilli can travel around the world in the upper strata of air. This information will probably be held by the bacilli for use in case of a dearth of American money.

Mr. Ringling is paying cash for his circus properties, it is reported. This will be much easier if the figures involved were not stated in circus vernacular.

A republic is a land in which there is no tyranny except that approved by the community conscience.

KNOW TEXAS.

Six thousand square miles of lignite underlie Texas.

In Texas in 1928 life insurance companies paid out $53,100,000 in death benefits, matured endowments, dividends and cash surrender values, ranking eleventh among the states.

In wages alone (exclusive of salaries) the printing industry in Texas (including newspaper and job printing plants) in 1927 expanded $9,282,298.

In 1927 there were 116,763 industrial wage earners in Texas who drew in wages $116,535,580.

Five hundred and seventy-two Texas towns have newspapers. Texas has 121 daily, one tri-weekly, 29 semi-weekly and 617 weekly newspapers with a total of 944 publications of all kinds.

Two hundred and twenty of the 254 county seats in Texas have newspapers.

A friend is one who can forgive you for everything except climbing above his level.

The girl who marries to keep away from college will learn better.

NO WAR WITHOUT ARMS

Representative Porter's attempt to get congress to empower the president to declare an embargo on the shipment of arms to any warring nation is the culmination of 20 years labor to the same end.

Congress in 1922 authorized the president to forbid the shipment of arms to South and Central American countries and to China. He has acted under this authorization in keeping American arms out of Mexico. Mr. Porter wants this authority to extend to the shipment of arms to any nation engaged in war.

If the Porter resolution should be passed, it would be the duty of the president to decide whether a belligerent nation should be permitted to buy munitions of war from American manufacturers.

As the nations agreeing to the Kellogg treaty have abandoned war as an instrument of national policy, some such arrangement as that proposed by Mr. Porter is an inevitable step in the direction of international peace.

KING MOTOR

For a long time cotton has been king, wheat next. During the first six months of 1929 the American exports of cotton fell off and the exports of automobiles, trucks, motors and their parts and accessories, shot up. Value of cotton exported, $319,800,000. Value of automobiles, etc., exported, $339,160,000.

So, since the Civil war, because of the superlative importance of exports to a nation's prosperity, it has been "King Cotton." Are we now entering an epoch of "King Motor?"

Probably it is too early to say. Changes are being forced upon the industry by our own and foreign tariff policies. Getting into enlarged production, American plants abroad seem certain to affect the future export figures. What we do gather clearly from the 1929 export statistics is another evidence of the transformation of the United States in the main, from an agricultural to an industrial basis. Nationwide understanding and realization are needed. It should vitally affect general thinking and, hence, national policies.

The larger its vote has grown, the more conservative has the labor party become. It has its left wing, whose members talk expansively and explosively; but it is careful to see that these people have little to do with the formation of policies.

Even then the impression does not run true to the canvas. Those stalwarts of rehabilitation proposed orderly and regular marketing at home and abroad but to many farm relief had come to mean the process of getting surplus commodities out of the country and on foreign markets.

Schwab testified he meets so many people he can not place Shearer. This shows to what level industry has degenerated. The old-time industrial chief could call every slab wheeler in the plant by his first name.

A scientist has discovered that disease bacilli can travel around the world in the upper strata of air. This information will probably be held by the bacilli for use in case of a dearth of American money.

Mr. Ringling is paying cash for his circus properties, it is reported. This will be much easier if the figures involved were not stated in circus vernacular.

KERENS FAIR DREW LARGE CROWDS AND NUMEROUS EXHIBITS

cars were supplied Thursday, with a car-driving contest furnishing additional thrills.

An old fiddlers contest was staged Wednesday evening under the supervision of D. N. Stockton. A football game between the Kerens high school and the Odd Fellows Home team of Corsicana formally closed the fair Thursday afternoon. The fair was sponsored by the Kerens chamber of commerce and associated business interests.

Judging Thursday
Judging in all classes of the exhibits started at 10 o'clock Thursday morning and continued during the day. Special attention was drawn in the livestock division where six or seven prize-winning registered Jersey bulls were on exhibition, in addition to numerous other entries of high grade dairy animals. Travis B. Peters entered his prize winning group of Poland China hogs at the fair. The livestock division was housed in the tabernacle.

Another interesting feature of the fair was the large poultry exhibit which numbered more than 200 fowls, including chickens, bantams, game, pigeons and ducks, demonstrating that this section of the county is showing increasing interest in these farm by-products.

The Long Prairie community booth was visited by a majority of the visitors Wednesday afternoon, and presented an attractive display of the possibilities of diversified farming. All of the exhibits were housed in buildings in the business district.

Textiles and Culinary
Numerous entries in the textile and culinary divisions were on display and one booth was occupied with a showing of girls' club work.

An unusually attractive exhibit of the work among the colored farmers was on display, showing the work of the boys and girls farm clubs, and a number of entries by adults in the textile, culinary, agricultural and divisions.

W. H. Phillips, county agent was in charge of the display.

The main thoroughfare of Kerens was attractively decorated with colored flags and bunting and presented a holiday appearance. A majority of the merchants had arranged window displays of particular interest to the farmers and many of them had special offerings for the fair.

CONSOLIDATION OF THREE PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGES PROBLEM

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—(P)—A blood curdling scream shattered the still night air. The figure of a man lay huddled in the street. "Keep everyone away from the body until we arrive," shouted Police Lieut. Joe McGuire to the excited person who phoned the report.

The cops arrived. A score of persons were gathered around at a respectful distance. Women clung timidly to masculine arms and shuddered. Everybody was fearful.

A policeman shouldered his way through the crowd and dropped to one knee beside the figure. He got up and kicked the figure. "A clothing store dummy," he said.

The crowd dispersed.

State Wins Case to Recover Land Funds

AUSTIN, Oct. 9.—(P)—Both the owners of state land and the lessee are liable to the state school fund for one-half the bonus paid for oil and gas rights and 50 cents per acre paid the state as stipulated in an oil and gas lease, the third court of civil appeals held today in affirming the decision of the Travis district court in the case of the state of Texas vs. The Empire Gas and Fuel company.

The state had obtained judgment in the court below against J. H. Tippett, lessor, and the gas and fuel company, lessee, for one-half of the $16,800 cash bonus and one-half the $1 acre rental remaining after deducting the ten cents per acre paid the state, as stipulated in an oil and gas lease, executed by Tippett to the company under the relinquishment act on 480 acres of school land.

It was contended by appellants the lower court erred because the land involved was never properly classified as mineral.

The commission will hold a conference in Austin in about two weeks when further proposals offered by towns interested in obtaining the consolidated institution will be considered.

NEGRO SOUGHT ON CHARGE AUTO THEFT AND ENTERING HOMES

EIGHT HOMES IN COUNTY BURGLARIZED AND THREE AUTOMOBILES STOLEN

Navarro and Dallas county officials are seeking a negro in connection with the alleged burglary of eight homes and the theft of three automobiles.

According to the information available Wednesday, the negro, said to be Jud Mail, burglarized four houses in the Hutchins community and then the Nash automobile belonging to J. J. Moore was missed. The Nash car was found abandoned near Richland creek by Deputy Sheriff V. McMurray Tuesday afternoon, out of gasoline. The car was returned to Corsicana by the officer and later was turned over to the owner and Hutchins officers.

The house of Clyde Cook, near Richland, was entered and a shotgun and some clothing were placed in Cook's sedan automobile. Cook, arriving on the scene of action as the negro was leaving, scared the negro who abandoned the car and the loot and escaped into the underbrush of Richland creek bottom. The houses of Burney Holloway, Modo Allred and William Donahoe were also reportedly entered and clothing taken. Officers and others secured the Richland bottoms for several hours before giving up the chase. The negro, said to be a fugitive and later thought to have stolen the automobile of Dudley Wallace who resides below Angus and returned to Hutchins where the car was abandoned.

Relatives of the negro reside near Hutchins and it is expected that the negro will be apprehended Wednesday or Thursday.

Officer McMurray stated that the negro had served two terms in the penitentiary.

Need Work Shoes? Ask For WOLVERINE Shell Horsehides

they stay soft and scuff-proof . . . . . they outwear all other work shoes

ALMOST every week a customer drops in to tell us how delighted he is with his Wolverine Work Shoes. Once we sell a man Wolverines, he never wants "anything else but." And there's a reason—several reasons, in fact.

FIRST—they wear longer, and thus save you money in the end. Wolverines are made of Shell Cordovan Horsehides—recognized by the tanners as the longest wearing leather. It's not at all unusual for Wolverines to last a whole year without repair—and two or three years' wear before they're discarded.

SECOND—they stay soft and comfortable in all weathers. The Wolverine tanners have developed a formula that makes Wolverines as soft as Buckskin. Then, too, they always look neat and dressy, for the uppers are scuff-proof, hard to rip, and almost impervious to acids.

ALL these "plus" features are yours at no higher prices than other good work shoes. Come in today and try a pair of Wolverines in your favorite style.

Bloody Borger Hopes For An Era of Peace

After three years of turbulence, Borger, Texas, hopes the martial law invoked by Gov. Dan Moody (lower right) will be the town's last cleanup. Above is a view of the oil field in which Borger sprang below is the main street of the town shortly after its founding. The latest investigation grew out of the death of John A. Holmes (left inset). The troops are in charge of Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters (upper right).

BORGER, Oct. 8.—(Spl)—This boom town of the Texas Panhandle where blood and oil have flown freely since Borger was born three years ago, hopes to end its lawless history this year.

The substantial citizens — and there are plenty of them — are weary of the outbreaks. Baptized in a wave of crime and oil discoveries in March, 1926, Borger has reached a climax to its three-year reign of turbulence. Gov. Dan Moody, with a martial law proclamation, has moved to break up what has been termed the worst crime ring in Texas oil field history.

The immediate cause of the proclamation was the recent killing of John A. Holmes, district attorney. But violence always has been the lot of Borger.

It was born amid lawlessness, as are most oil field towns. When new

NEGRO IS SLAIN.

LONGVIEW, Oct. 9.—(Spl)—Earl Anderson, negro, was shot and killed at Gladewater, near here, today when he ran from the home of Rupert York. Two negroes occupying an automobile stolen from Marshall were arrested shortly after the shooting. No charges had been filed at noon.

With that the town quieted some, but in October, 1928, Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson sent rangers again. In April, 1927, Governor Moody ordered the rangers in a third time. Martial law was threatened but did not go into effect.

Now the state charges the town is crime ridden and must be pur-

fled. The governor's proclamation alleges that peace officers have accepted money for protection of crime; that respectable citizens have been afraid to talk, and that one peace officer is an ex-convict.

Mayor Glenn A. Pace has been arrested, charged with having caused a witness in a murder case to leave town. Sam Jones, deputy constable, and Clint Melholland, policeman, have been arrested for investigation.

All other peace officers have been disarmed, and the soldiers, headed by Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters, have taken over the government.

The neighboring village of Stinnett, the county seat, also was put under martial law.

Meanwhile, the good citizens of Borger are hoping this cleanup will be the last. The town now has a population of 10,000. Its monthly payroll is $1,000,000 a month, consequently, law and order comprise the goal of the future.

EARTH SINKING IN OIL FIELD SECTOR NEAR SOUR LAKE

BEAUMONT, Oct. 9.—(Spl)—The sinking of earth over an area 150 feet by 150 feet in the Sour Lake oil field, two miles from Sour Lake, Texas, caused oil men to become apprehensive of consequences in the field today.

The depression was first noticed yesterday when it covered only a small area. It continued to enlarge during the night, however, and today had covered the area of a town lot. The depth of the depression had not been measured, due to the hole filling up with water. Trees of medium size visible yesterday, however, had disappeared today. Some observers placed the depth from 50 to 100 feet.

The probable average yield per acre of 108 pounds may be compared with 138 pounds last season and 133 pounds the ten year average, he said.

It was estimated this year's crop in Texas would amount to 3,850,000 five hundred pound bales. Last year 5,106,000 bales were made. Ginnings prior to October 1 were 2,130,000 bales, or 55 per cent of the estimated equivalent 500 pound bales, Schultz said. Last year 53 per cent

MORE THAN HALF OF TEXAS COTTON CROP PICKED PRIOR TO OCTOBER 1 SCHULTZ SAYS

AUSTIN, Oct. 9.—(Spl)—The 46 per cent condition of Texas cotton on October 1 compares with 46 per cent a month ago and 58 per cent on October 1, 1928, according to H. H. Schutz, statistician with the United States Department of Agriculture bureau of agricultural economics. The ten year average is 51 per cent.

"Somewhat more than one-half of the Texas crop had been picked and ginned by Oct. 1," he said. "About three-fourths of the southern half of the state had been picked and a third of that in the northern portion. Very little top crop is expected and many farmers are plowing up the stalks to start the new crop of insects. Yields this season have been most irregular.

In the northwest they are comparable in a measure with 1918. In the north, northeast and south with 1925; in the center, west center and east, with 1921, and in the southeast with 1919.

"These five seasons—1929, 1925, 1921, 1919 and 1918—had two or more districts adversely affected by drought, floods or insects. The

Local Oil Interest Centered in Drilling Plug in Van Well

Interest in local oil circles was centered on the drilling of the plug in the Pure test near Van in Van Zandt, and a number of the local operators left early Wednesday for the well.

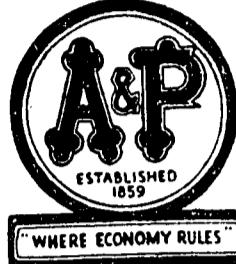

The drillers found a good showing in this test several days ago and casing was set slightly below the 2600 foot level. The plug was to have been drilled Tuesday night and the well was expected in Wednesday.

F. H. Pierson, deputy oil and gas supervisor, left early Wednesday for the well.

The present season was one of excessive rain followed by drought and extreme insect activity. Only 40 out of 210 cotton-growing counties are exceeding last year's production.

TEXAS PRESBYTERY OF U P CHURCH IN SESSION CORSICANA

OPENING SERMON DELIVERED
ED TUESDAY EVENING BY
REV. C. E. M'STRAVICK

Rev. W. E. S. James, moderator, of San Antonio, preached the morning sermon at the Texas Presbytery in the United Presbyterian church Wednesday. Wednesday's session was begun by having Re-treat from 9 to 11 o'clock, at which time ministers and elders of the Presbytery met for prayer, and to discuss church problems. After the sermon, the Presbytery was declared formerly opened.

The Rev. Mr. James read the scripture from the 6th verse of the Acts, and called attention to the expression of the momentous times during the life of Christ. He said the people in Christ's times did not realize what was happening in the way of antagonism between people and nations. They were spoken of as hopeless days. God sensed the trouble of earth and placed a little baby, Jesus Christ, in the world to bring peace to men. This baby that he sent, embodied the traits of both God and man.

During the time of Christ's life the people on earth could not be made to realize that God had personified in Christ, but could see only the man. In the present times, people cannot be made to see God in life, only the worldly side of it. We are not to pass judgment on the people in Christ's time for not seeing God in him, because we can not see it now.

Should Pray for Power.

Now we should pray to get power to see God. At Easter time we hope to create a spirit that will momentarily stop the world and make it see the crucifixion in the light of God instead of three crosses. We are going to achieve this by study, prayer and preaching. There is a tremendous divine power, the speaker said, when men kneel down and accept Christ in the sight of God, rather than in the sight of man.

When we worship at the foot of Christ, as his disciples did, we become cleansed. Christ may be called a God-Man, because he was crushed by man, and had all physical attributes of man, but was raised by God, and had the cleansing power of God. The disciples could see no way to become cleansed after Christ's crucifixion, so they prayed for 50 days, after which they came forth changed men, and refreshed with the spirit of God.

At that time no one who saw the outpouring of God's spirit remained untouched. This overflowing spirit did not come in a sensational way, but came quietly, strongly and surely, into lives of consecrated men, the Rev. James declared.

"I think the world today is waiting for the second outpouring of God's spirit which will be the beginning of a new missionary era," the speaker said. In this way we shall be able to harness God's power, in our homes, churches, states, and nations, and be qualified to meet the present momentous times, the speaker concluded.

The Texas Presbytery session will close Wednesday night with three speeches. Wednesday afternoon was devoted to the discussion of business matters concerning the Presbytery, and the drawing up of resolutions.

On Tuesday Night.

Rev. C. E. M'Stravick, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, opened the two day session of the Texas Presbytery of the church by preaching a sermon at the United Presbyterian church Tuesday night.

The pastor opened the meeting by reading the Scripture from the first book of St. John, and accenting the part dealing with the love of God. He explained that what a man loves above anything else is his God; it dominates his thoughts, and molds his character.

"Jealousy is a common thing, he declared, and under certain conditions it is perfectly legitimate. Ours is a jealous God. We are jealous people. God is jealous of our love, which is an exclusive love, and he refuses to be compromised with our love for him. We have no right to give to worldly things, the love that belongs to God.

The pastor explained that the love of money itself does not define people, but it is the love of what money can buy that is hateful in the sight of God. The love of money and the love of God are two different things, since people love money or what it will buy, while they love God for what He is.

The reason we love God, the pastor said, is because He loves us. He has loved us from times past even before we came into this world, and still loves us, even though we do things that are not right in His sight. Unlike the love of indulgent mothers who cover their children's sins, God is just, and deals with us justly according to our shortcomings.

We love God, for what He has done for us and for the world. He so constituted our bodies that we will get tired and will enjoy rest, and will get hungry and enjoy eating. We love Him for making the world, the sun, the stars and the moon, all of which move in their respective orbits as if guided by the hand of God.

The fellow ship of God is another reason why we love Him, the pastor stated. In the quiet hours He comes to us to comfort the soul and help us when we are discouraged and despondent. The richest things a man has in this world are those things we get when alone talking with God. We love God for His character which we can absorb through associating with Him. The love of God and the love of the world are mortal enemies, waging a huge battle for our souls, and they cannot be shared. God may withdraw from the fight just long enough to let your soul pass the danger line on the river of sin, and be near the deadly falls of eternal destruction, but before you go over the falls He will re-enter the battle and bring you back to the safety of His teachings.

Which one will you choose, the love of worldly things, or the love of God? They are ever fighting for your soul and the one to which you make up your mind to follow will win the struggle.

ARMY FLYING SCHOOL AT KELLY FIELD WILL GRADUATE 119 PILOTS

LARGEST CLASS SINCE WAR WILL BE GRADUATED SAN ANTONIO OCTOBER 12

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The advanced flying school of the Army at Kelly Field, Texas, will graduate, Oct. 12, the largest class of flying students since the world war. It was announced Oct. 5, by the department of war. The class numbers 119. The statement is full text follows:

The class which graduated June 22 numbered 103 students, while classes graduating in February and in October 1928 numbered 55 and 63 respectively. On Oct. 12, the Army Air Corps, within a period of 16 months, will have graduated a total of 370 qualified air pilots.

Students and Study Improved
This progressive trend in the number of students graduating from the advanced flying school indicates not only that superior class of students are now entering the school, but that constant improvement, are being effected in methods of training at the air corps training center.

Normally the graduation of the October class occurs during the last week of that month. Excellent weather conditions at Kelly Field during the past summer, however, made it possible to complete the flying training schedule several weeks sooner.

The early graduation date will give the new incoming class of the advanced flying school extra time in which to complete the course. It is considered that this extra time will prove advantageous in view of the fact that will aid in filling gaps in the flying schedule caused by unfavorable weather conditions naturally to be expected during the winter months.

Classification of Personnel
Among the 119 students scheduled to graduate, 47 are second lieutenants of the regular army who graduated from the Military Academy in June, 1928, this number constituting slightly over 55 per cent of the 85 West Point graduates who were detailed to the Army Air Corps for flying training. In due course of time these 47 pilot graduates will be transferred to the air corps, regular army.

All but one of the remaining 72 graduates received their training under the status of flying cadet, the exception being a master sergeant who received his flying training under his noncommissioned status. All of these graduates will be commissioned as second lieutenants in the air corps reserve, and 57 of them will be assigned to active duty under their reserve commission until the end of this fiscal year, June 30, 1930.

WILL BACK PLAN TO MAKE TRINITY RIVER NAVIGABLE

DALLAS, Oct. 10.—(SP)—Congressman Hattie W. Summers has asked the Dallas chamber of commerce he will seek congressional approval for a survey of a project to connect Dallas with the sea by an inland waterway following the Trinity river to the gulf.

That temperature was reached at a height of 10.8 miles in a government balloon carrying delicate weather recording instruments. It was 76 degrees above zero on the surface at that time.

Records of these balloon flights have just been made public by the U. S. weather bureau in Washington, Mr. Adams says. A total of 45 balloons and instruments were released, and 37 of them were found and returned. One was found as far as Longview, and another at Manning, Texas. The highest balloon reached by any of the balloons was 17.1 miles.

"Contrary to the popular belief," says Mr. Adams, "it does not continue to grow colder with an increase of altitude above the ground, but the temperature slowly increases after reaching a height of 9.5 miles."

FIVE-POWER NAVAL MEET INVITATION IS GIVEN ACCEPTANCE

(Continued From Page 1) tion, received last week, was drafted by state department officials while the president and prime minister were engaged in their conversations.

The acceptance communication has been forwarded to London for delivery to Foreign Minister Henderson by the American charge d'affairs, Jay Atherton. The note is brief. Its publication is being withheld until tomorrow in order that it first could be delivered to the British government.

Besides Great Britain and the United States, other powers invited to participate in the conference are Japan, France and Italy. The parley will be held in London in January.

MacDonald Quits Capital

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(P)—Concluding a visit expected to affect the destiny of nations, Ramsay MacDonald, Britain's prime minister, left Washington today at 9:02 a. m. for Philadelphia.

Secretary Stimson and other high officials were at the station to bid farewell to the British statesman. The trip from the British embassy to the United States was made in white horse cars sent by the president for use of the prime minister and his party. Sir Esme Howard, British ambassador, and Captain Alan Buchan, the president's naval aide, rode with the prime minister in the first car.

Ishbel MacDonald Pleads for Peace

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(P)—Ishbel MacDonald's farewell to Washington is a message from organized British womanhood to organized American womanhood, and it concerns peace. Not until she was almost ready to depart did Miss MacDonald reveal the full import of her visit.

To a little group of "key women" of America, whom she met in informal luncheons, she delivered her message. She then learned that just before she left London, a group of several hundred laboring women had come to bid her God-speed.

In tears, they asked me to give the message to American women that they were looking and praying for peace," she related. "They said for me to tell you they are hoping American women also will look and pray for peace."

The Scotch girl's little audience included women who hold high positions in some of the great national women's organizations of America.

Visits Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10.—(P)—Ramsay MacDonald, prime minister of Great Britain, came to Philadelphia today in his private capacity to meet old friends and to greet those who ministered to him when he was ill here for three weeks two years ago.

Mr. MacDonald, on his way from Washington to New York with his daughter, Ishbel, and other members of his party, arrived just before noon.

New York is Ready.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—(P)—A three-day program of official and private engagements, including a luncheon expected to be the largest in attendance ever given in this city, will greet Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald upon his arrival from Washington this evening.

The British prime minister and his party will remain in New York until Monday when they will depart for Canada, visiting Niagara Falls as guests of the New York state reservation commission, and crossing the international peace bridge at Buffalo on Tuesday.

After his arduous activities at Washington, Mr. MacDonald will be given an opportunity to rest at

MacDonald Pleased With Accomplishment

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10.—(P)—Upon his arrival in Philadelphia today, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain said he was going away "content and convinced that in the more congenial atmosphere there would be satisfactory results from his conference with President Hoover."

"I am delighted with the general response the American people and the American press have given to the attempts of the president and myself have been making to arrive at a mutual understanding," he said. "I am going away content and convinced that in the more congenial atmosphere there will be satisfactory results."

About 500 persons were at the Baltimore & Ohio station to greet the premier. As he was about to enter the automobile, the crowd broke through the police line and surrounded the distinguished visitor. Mr. MacDonald was very gracious and smilingly shook hands with all in reach.

Mr. MacDonald, who was very ill here in 1927, sometime ago arranged to give a luncheon here to the physicians and nurses who cared for him in Jefferson Hospital and who entertained his daughter while he was ill. So instead of being the one to guess today he was the host at the private luncheon for about 40 persons at the Bellevue Stratford Hotel.

A reception to representatives of many cultural, civic and other organizations was arranged after the luncheon, after which the premier planned to continue his journey to New York.

CHAS. D. WAGGONER PLEADS GUILTY TO MAIL FRAUD CHARGE

Presence of these witnesses was used by District Attorney Tuttle in his argument for an early trial date for the indicted banker. He pleaded they were undergoing a type of trial, remaining here with only $5 a day allowed for expenses by the government and several were in danger of losing their jobs.

In asking for a severe sentence the prosecutor accused Waggoner of embezzlement from his own bank in connection with his handling of a large estate. He said this embezzlement furnished the motive for the banker's crime against the New York banks, committed in desperation "when the day of reckoning was at hand."

Plaids For Mercy.

Waggoner's attorney, Allan R. Campbell, entered a plea in the banker's behalf urging that Waggoner was entitled to sympathy and consideration from the court because of his "altruistic purpose" though his acts had been admittedly criminal.

Defense counsel presented to the court a copy of a note Waggoner had written to the Denver National Bank several months ago. It Waggoner gave the Denver bank on Sept. 1 to answer a proposition which he had hoped to rehabilitate the Bank of Telluride, Campbell said and to protect himself from prosecution.

The letter was not read in court, but Campbell said Waggoner had been possessed with the idea that the six Denver banks would be satisfied with the money he obtained in New York through the fake telegrams bearing their names.

Waggoner went to the rescue of Denver banks several years ago when a panic affected them, Campbell stated, using gold from his Telluride bank to help them out. The fact that these same banks

DEPRESSION COVERS SEVEN ACRES; STILL INCREASING THURS.

THIRTEEN WELLS ARE SHUT DOWN, OTHERS AFFECTED SOUR LAKE PHENOMENON

BEAUMONT, Oct. 10.—(P)—The sinking area in the Sour Lake oil field, 20 miles west of here, continued to increase slowly today. The area affected was estimated from 10 to ten acres, the center during the night having increased from 20 to 30 feet.

A space in the center of the depression of about 100 by 150 feet was under water, the surface of which was approximately 35 to 50 feet below the original surface before the disturbance started Tuesday.

The water area had not increased, but the enlarging of fissures last night made it impossible to reach the sunken lake, today. It was possible yesterday to walk to the water edge.

BEAUMONT, Oct. 10.—(P)—With at least 13 wells shut down and others seriously affected, operators in the Sour Lake field here near watched a steadily growing fissure in the ground today with anxiety.

The sink hole, which first became noticeable yesterday, was estimated to be 150 feet deep in places and was full of water. Trees 40 feet high dropped out of sight beneath the surface and one abandoned derrick, a boiler and six settling tanks were engulfed. The hole already covered approximately 7 acres and the sides of the pit were slowly crumbling into it.

On one side of the sinking area, a well which formerly made about 10 barrels a day, jumped its production to 250, while on the other side a well that made 150 barrels a day began to spout salt water.

Geologists Interested.

The sinking was created much interest among geologists. These have gathered from a wide area. The 150 foot depth of the Sour Lake fissure is about the only unique feature of this phenomenon. There have been a score or more of similar occurrences in the Gulf area noted within the last 25 years, but in all other cases the depression has been but a few feet.

Several years ago a section of the Goose Creek oil field in Harris County sank. This field is near the ocean on land, but few inches above high tide. Gulf waters rushed in and covered the area to a depth of a foot or more. Houses for some distance away were cracked or set unevenly on their foundations. The state, which claims ownership to all lands covered by tide water, entered suit against various oil companies operating at Goose Creek to recover the tide.

Geologists testified the sinking was evidently due to the taking of great quantities of oil from the land thereby leaving a cavity. The state lost the suit.

Other Instances.

At Batson, in Hardin county, about 30 miles northwest of Beaumont, a section of the field sank about 20 years ago. Later it was ascertained this sinking was due to a flowing well which had been brought in through broken casing. The gas and oil flow had reached the surface and brought great quantities of oil out of the well. The derrick and other drilling paraphernalia were swallowed up.

At Sulphur, La., 40 miles east of Beaumont, an area of the Sulphur field sank suddenly after millions had refused Waggoner accommodations to the Telluride bank in the hour of need has "borne heavily upon his mind," Campbell told the court.

Waggoner went to the rescue of Denver banks several years ago when a panic affected them, Campbell stated, using gold from his Telluride bank to help them out.

Soldiers of A.E.F. Dedicate Rebuilt Church at Belleau

BELLEAU, France, Oct. 10.—(P)—Three hundred soldiers of the twenty-sixth division, A. E. F., came back today to their hardest battlefield to dedicate the reconstructed Belleau church as a monument to their comrades who fell in the memorable fighting in 1918.

In a simple ceremony, General John H. Sherburne turned over the keys of the church to the mayor of Belleau, after which Mgr. Mennochet, bishop of Soissons, blessed the building, and the Abbe Combès, for thirty years parish priest of this little village, said mass.

COLLEGE LOCATION POSTPONED UNTIL LATER IN MONTH

TYLER, Oct. 10.—(P)—Location of the Consolidated Presbyterian college in Texas will not be definitely decided upon until the last of this month in order to allow two large cities, thought to be San Antonio and Houston, to perfect their offers.

The consolidation will bring together Daniel Baker at Brownwood, Austin College at Sherman and Texas Presbyterian college at Marshall, now cooperative.

The site which has been selected yesterday was estimated to be 150 feet deep in places and was full of water. Trees 40 feet high dropped out of sight beneath the surface and one abandoned derrick, a boiler and six settling tanks were engulfed. The hole already covered approximately 7 acres and the sides of the pit were slowly crumbling into it.

EFFORT BEING MADE TO SAVE LAMAR BANDITS FOR DEATH SENTENCE

ATTORNEY FOR THIRD BANDIT MAY APPEAR AND SEEK LIFE SENTENCE FOR TWO

LAMAR, Colo., Oct. 10.—(P)—An eye witness story of the murder of A. N. Parrish, president of the First National Bank of Lamar, in the holdup May 23, 1928, marked the opening of the third day of the trial of George J. Abshier, one of three prisoners facing first degree murder charges.

A. H. Hill, banker, live stock dealer, was transacting business with the bank president, he said, when the bandits entered the bank. He told of seeing Parrish shot by one of the robbers and of the banker shooting one of the holdup men.

What may prove to be a new element in the many stories told about the holdup was the witness statement that Jake Fleagle, the bandit still at large, emerged from the holdup on May 23, 1928.

The robbery resulted in the death

bank president's office with two guns in one hand after the banker had been killed.

E. A. Langan, one of the two tellers kidnapped by the bandits as they escaped, next took the stand to undergo questioning by Allyn Cole, deputy district attorney.

LAMAR, Colo., Oct. 10.—(P)—At the trial of George J. Abshier on a charge of first degree murder entered its third day, the possibility arose that L. W. Cunningham, attorney for another of the men who have confessed participation in the robbery of the First National Bank of Lamar, would appear before the jury to plead for life imprisonment for Abshier.

Cunningham, who was relieved at his own request of the responsibility of representing Abshier and Howard L. Royston, second defendant charged with aiding in the holdup, president of the bank, now represents only Ralph Fleagle, third member of the gang now facing trial.

It is known that Byron G. Rogers, counsel for Abshier and Royston, has suggested to Cunningham that he appear during the closing defense arguments in an effort to save Abshier and Royston from the noose for their participation in the holdup on May 23, 1928.

The robbery resulted in the death of the bank president; his son, J. F. Parrish; E. A. Kessinger, cashier who was kidnapped and slain, and Dr. W. W. Windinger, Dighton, Kas., physician who was murdered after being called upon to dress the wounds of one of the gang.

LINDBERGH'S AIR EXPLORATION PARTY MET WITH SUCCESS

the center of a Maya city which flourished a millennium ago.

Third City Found.
When the third city was discovered later in the afternoon Santa Cruz Indians beneath ran from the plane as it flew above them. The ruins were laid out in almost a perfect square on sloping hills, from the highest of which the Maya masonry was perfectly visible to those in the plane. Numbers of small dwellings, temples and mounds appeared in the fourth.

Lindbergh sighted the fourth ruin, probably the most interesting find of the day, a great mound rising 60 or 70 feet above the ground, with its crumbling walls, visible from as far as 22 miles away. Dr. Kidder described it as a perfect type of Maya empire edifice. Although the ruin was within 30 miles of Santa Cruz De Bravo, no human habitations were seen.

Known Ruins Seen Also.
Two other cities, well known to archaeologists who have investigated the ruins in this region, were picked up by the party aboard the plane as it headed for Isla Cozumel. One of these was the city of Coba, not larger than the four ruins the aviators had discovered. The other, Tulum, is one of the largest on the peninsula.

It was nearly sundown before they reached Cozumel Island, remaining there for the night before taking off today for Miami, last lap of the Caribbean good will flight. Besides Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh, there were aboard the plane Dr. Kidder and two of the staff of the Pan-American Airways.

Most of the section flown over yesterday has never been explored, and on most maps is just a great blank space. It appeared to be principally jungle country, with few signs of human habitation, although occasionally on the rivers the boats of chicle producers could be seen.

On Final Leg of Tour.
MIAMI, Oct. 10.—(P)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and his party left Cozumel at 9:56 a. m., today on the last leg of the return flight to Miami from Belize, British Honduras, according to a radio message relayed to Pan American Airways here.

Union Workers in Serious Clash With Alleged Communists

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—(P)—Eleven men were sloganized and another stabbed in a clash on the west edge of the loop last night between Union workers and a group which the Unionists regarded as Communists.

There was fighting in the streets, and hundreds of men and women refused to leave factories in which they were employed until police had dispersed the rioters.

The trouble started from handbills signed by the Needle Trades Workers' Industrial Union, assailing the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union as "selfish and seal agency." Four men, members of the first group, were arrested.

NAVAL ACCORD AND OLDER PROBLEM OF FREEDOM OF SEAS ARE NEAR SOLUTION

BY JAMES L. WEST
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(P)—

President Hoover and Prime Minister MacDonald looked forward today, not only to effecting the Anglo-American naval accord through a five-power agreement, but to active consideration of the old problem of freedom of the seas and other "historical" problems of the two nations.

It was for this reason that the British statesman was able to end his visit to the American capital today with a trace of fatigue on his face but happy over the frank talks he has had with President Hoover.

He will linger a while in America—visiting Philadelphia, New York, Buffalo and Niagara Falls—before again entering upon British soil to confer with Mackenzie King, of Canada, the first of the Dominion prime ministers whom he will consult on problems discussed in his conversations in Washington.

Statements issued jointly by the president and Mr. MacDonald and by the prime minister indicate these problems cover a wide range and encompass that one which has been the source of recurring controversy for more than a century—freedom of the seas.

"We approach old historical problems from a new angle and in a new atmosphere," said the joint statement. "On the assumption that war between us is banished, and that conflicts between our military and naval forces can not take place, these problems have changed their meaning and character, and their solution, in ways satisfactory to both countries, has become possible."

Announcement was made that the American and British governments would begin conversations upon them, following the same method as that pursued on naval limitation which resulted in their agreement on parity, or equality of strength, as between the two nations in each category of war craft.

Both this joint pronouncement and that given later by Mr. MacDonald alone emphasized the treaty to renounce war as an instrument of national policy had been made the basis for future relations between the two governments.

"We have both agreed to constantly keep the pact in front of us," Mr. MacDonald said, "and to use it for the purpose of coming to agreement on subjects which have defied agreement up to now."

"In consequence of that I take with me to London a series of questions all of which are now to be the subject of study by the various departments concerned and of consideration between the dominions and ourselves with the object of coming to agreement upon them."

"All this has been arrived at, not for the purpose of dividing America and ourselves from the rest of the world, but rather to enable each of us to be more effective than ever in co-operating with other nations to establish the peace of the world."

After concluding his five days of conferences with President Hoover and other government officials, Mr. MacDonald had a rather short talk with Senator Borah, of Idaho, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, concerning some of the foremost question of foreign relations.

"Freedom of the seas and recognition of the Russian Soviet government are foreign policy questions uppermost in the mind of the senator, and since he and Mr. MacDonald are old friends there was no doubt they talked about these things. Senator Borah said his conversation at an informal tea at the British embassy had been highly satisfactory."

EYE WITNESSES IN PANTAGES ATTACK CASE TAKE STAND

YOUNG DANCER, ALLEGED VICTIM OF ATTACK, COMPLETES HER TESTIMONY

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 8.—(UPI)—Eunice Pringle, 17-year-old co-ed dancer, having completed her story of an alleged attack which she says occurred in the "chubby hole" office of Alexander Pantages, multimillionaire theatre man, the state today prepared to introduce the testimony of its list of "eye witnesses" in Pantages' trial on a statutory charge.

Miss Pringle, finished two grueling days on the witness stand, was led sobbing from the courtroom yesterday after being compelled to parade before the jurors in low-cut, scarlet ensemble she wore on the day she visited Pantages' office. Defense attorneys followed her display of the garment with questions regarding scanty costumes worn in her dancing acts.

W. L. Gordon, state's first witness to the alleged attack, was called for cross examination by defense attorney Gordon, who operates a women's apparel shop in a theatre building on the same floor as Pantages' suite of offices, testified yesterday that on the afternoon of August 9 he was attracted to the Pantages office by a woman's scream.

The witness said he saw girl's hand protruding from the office door, and when he pushed the door open he saw a man's hand holding the girl's ankle. He said the girl screamed out, "Screaming, crying and hysterical."

"What did you hear when you had the door open?" Assistant Prosecutor Robert P. Stewart asked.

Pringle herself. Under a witherity man for Pantages. All three, District Attorney Buron Pitts said, testified that after the incident in the "cubby hole" office, Pantages instructed them to color their stories in his behalf.

W. C. Hale, prosecution witness, who was on the stand yesterday, will be recalled in an effort by defense attorneys to impeach his testimony on the ground he is a fugitive from justice. Defense Attorney W. I. Gilbert charged the witness was under indictment in Texas on ten felony counts, and that his testimony for the state was influenced by that fact. Gilbert also charged Hale had been arrested in Los Angeles county as a felony suspect.

Surprise Witness. Testimony of Jay Sheridan, San Antonio resort keeper, provided one of the most hectic days of the trial. Sheridan, a surprise witness, said Pantages had approached him with a proposition to secure two women and a man, in addition to himself, to give testimony directed at the character of Miss Pringle.

He said that on September 22 he met Pantages by appointment in a law office in San Antonio.

"I was asked if I would be willing to testify. I was in the little room where the attack is supposed to have happened; I said I would do it—would do all I possibly could to help him."

"Was the story which Pantages asked you to testify to true or false?"

"False."

Made Appointment.

Under cross-examination by defense attorney Jerry Geisler, the witness admitted he made the first appointment with Pantages, never the telephone from San Diego, and told the attorney he had something important to tell him.

" Didn't you tell him over the telephone you knew Eunice Pringle had met her in Tijuana?" asked Geisler.

"No, I told him I knew 'Skidde' Pringle," replied the witness.

"And you told him 'Skidde' Pringle was Eunice Pringle, and she'd stayed at your apartment all night, and you had witnesses to prove it?"

"Yes."

Sheridan then testified he brought to Los Angeles with him from Tijuana, Mexico, two women from Texas to be used as witnesses, and that Pantages had given him money on several occasions to "keep witnesses in line."

PECANS REPORTED BEARING WELL IN COUNTRY THIS YEAR

The Navarro county pecan crop this year is reported to be one of the best yields for the past several years. Native trees that are to be found in every section of Navarro county, along the creeks and ravines, and practically all these trees that are of sufficient growth are reported well filled.

The cultivated trees, with the large, thin-shelled nuts, are now in full bearing well. Robert Cooley, now in the country, gathered twenty pounds of nuts from one small tree just a little more than four years old, and that he will gather several additional pounds of nuts from the same tree. He has several hundred pecan trees on his farm near Roane.

FARM PROBLEMS DISCUSSED BEFORE COUNTY BANKERS

DALLAS BANK PRESIDENT DISCUSSES SITUATION FROM DIFFERENT ANGLE

Agricultural problems are age-old and world-wide. John E. Owens, vice-president of the Republic National Bank and Trust company of Dallas, declared during his address at the regular quarterly meeting of the Navarro County Bankers Association at the Navarro hotel Tuesday evening. About sixty bankers from all parts of the country were in attendance.

Declaring that he was unable to appear in blackface because of a shortage of cork at his usual sources, Lawrence (Sadie) Ransom proceeded to present a comedy sketch which provided plenty of amusement for the group at the expense of various individuals in the artist's inimitable manner.

Dr. J. Wilson David was then presented in two vocal selections, accompanied by Joe C. Trimble. He sang "Man's Song" by Geoffrey O'Hara, and "Little Cabin of Dreams."

J. E. Butler, president of the association, presided at the meeting and N. Suttle Roberts was chairman of the program committee.

A man who has studied the problems of the small town bankers and is familiar with the problems of farm finance was the way in which Mr. Roberts introduced the speaker of the evening.

Not contenting to dictate

In his introductory remarks, Mr. Owens asserted that he had never been interested in saving the down trodden farmer from his ills, but that he had studied the situation from an economic viewpoint with its results on towns and cities.

He said that the average talk on the farm situation bored the audience intensely, but that he was not attempting to tell the farmer what to do. He stated that he found out several years ago that it required less sense to run a bank than to run a farm successfully, after attempting to establish a modern farm in Van Zandt county years ago.

There is nothing in human life that is not subject to the laws of change, and death is in store for those who cannot accommodate themselves to the changes, the speaker asserted, but the farmers of today are still using the same bartering methods, and same methods of production that the ancient inhabitant of the Nile valley used when Memphis was at its height.

All of the colleges, special departments and other agencies, he declared, have been primarily interested in distribution and not production.

Farm Board Competent

Mr. Owen said that the new national farm board is composed of men who are intensely interested in agriculture, and that good would result from their efforts in spite of the many objections voiced against the farm board measure.

No direct relief will be provided for the farmer, the Dallas banker added, but Texas should recognize that there is an agricultural problem, although few will admit it at the present time. This problem is in the loss of purchasing power of the farmers' produce. He declared that cotton was worth more at ten cents a pound a few years ago than it is today at eighteen cents, and proved with specific examples that the value of farm products have not kept pace with other changes. In the last forty years he asserted that the lands of Texas have lost a net yield of fifty pounds of cotton per acre.

The test of land taxes is the ability of the land to pay the taxes, and today is paying the highest rate. He called attention to the tendency toward landlordism.

Agriculture as Business

He declared he talked about agriculture as a business, and that as such it was almost a failure. Some advance the theory of corporate management as a solution, but none of the great farms are really making profit he declared, but because this form of landlordism knows the mechanics of business, the average farmer is being gradually pushed into the discard because he cannot survive the competition.

The farm board is attempting to solve the problem by provisions for handling the surplus, but in order to control the price and handle the surplus, the board must be able to control production, or when the price of cotton is set at twenty-five cents or a similar figure, everybody from Greeland to South America will plant cotton. ## CLARENCE GILMORE DROPPED DEAD IN SAN ANTONIO HOTEL

Disque immediately recessed the hearing indefinitely.

Long Gilmore, a son in California, was notified.

Although he had few advantages because of the necessity of making his own way, Clarence Edgar Gilmore fitted himself, mostly through sheer hard work and home study, for any one of a number of vocations looked upon as worthy of utmost effort.

He achieved success as a school teacher, printer, editor and publisher, lawyer and politician.

Born in Van Zandt

He was born on a farm near Canton, Van Zandt county, Texas, Oct. 26, 1872. His parents, Wiley Coleman Gilmore and Sarah (Morrison) Gilmore were financially unable to give their son the advantages they hoped to afford him. This did not cramp the ambition of young Clarence Gilmore. He had to walk to town and sold it, using the proceeds to purchase school books. He swept floors of the school building and built the fires for his tuition after passing the free school age.

Educated in the public schools of Canton, he later took a short term in the University of Texas to round out a course of study in law. He clerked in stores, taught school for three years, and worked in the postoffice at Wills Point and Canton.

Entered Newspaper Field.

In 1894 Mr. Gilmore acquired a half interest in the Wills Point Chronicle with George T. Spears. Later the two owned, in addition, the Canton Herald for a short time. The partnership bought Wichita Times in 1898, 1899 Gilmore and Spears dissolved partnership, Gilmore retaining the Times and Spears the Chronicle. Later Mr. Gilmore sold the Times and moved back to Wills Point.

In 1899 he purchased the Chronicle and owned and edited it until 1913, when he retired from the newspaper business to practice law. He was a printer by trade and had much mechanical as well as editorial work while in the newspaper business. He was elected president of the Texas Press Association in 1908 and was general attorney for the association for many years.

Admitted to Bar.

Mr. Gilmore was admitted to the bar in 1912 and practiced law until 1914 when he became a member of the Texas Railroad Commission, having been elected for a six-year term. He was elected chairman of the commission in 1923 after the death of Allison Mayfield, chairman for many years. He was tendered a place on the Board of Mediation at Washington in 1926 by President Coolidge, but declined.

A life-long democrat, Mr. Gilmore took an interest in politics early in life. He was nominated for county surveyor of Van Zandt before he was 21, but declined. He was elected to the House of Representatives from the floritorial district composed of Kaufman, Rains and Van Zandt counties in 1906 and re-elected in 1908 and 1910. He served two terms on the House Appropriations committee. In 1909 he was chairman of the penitentiary investigating committee which made a thorough study of the State penal system and at a special session rewrote the laws governing it. He was defeated for Speaker of the House in the 32nd legislature.

Mr. Gilmore was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. He was a Masonic knight of Pythias and Woodmen of the World fraternal organizations, Texas Bar Association, Rotary club, National Association of
